

Excerpt from History of the Town of Waldoboro, Maine In the preparation of the History of Waldoboro we have responded to the request of many residents and former residents of the town. Nearly forty years ago we began to collect information for this work, and many who freely gave this information have passed to the life beyond. In no sense have we attempted to make this a genealogy. In the prosecution of the work we have availed ourselves of the records of the town, county, State and United States. We have consulted books, pamphlets and traditionary information. From the Massachusetts archives at the State House, Boston, the Boston Public Library, the Maine Historical Society, Eatons Annals of Warren, and Johnstons History of Bristol and Bremen, we secured much valuable information. We are under especial obligation to Prof. Henry L. Chapman of Bowdoin College, William D. Patterson, Esq., of Wiscasset, A. R. Reed, Esq., of Waldoboro, and others for assistance.
